

CHAPTER 5

Fernando Robles witnesses the Sacred Heart of Christ in his attempt of abusing a little prodigy girl

My site on Doc Solomon's University had gained a lot of visits in just one year, and there were more students enrolled in DSU than ever before, being the courses on Folk Protestantism and Alt-Magick the most popular courses on the University's website (these two courses were offered by myself and my two children). Besides, my website "The Protestant Summoner Shop" was widely popular among Latin Americans, receiving, in fact, visits from Colombia, Mexico, and Argentina! Brazilians were also a larger population of visitors inside the site.

Our most popular services were: Angelic, Saint, and Spirit Evocation; Candle Blessings; Consecration Services; and Saint-Archangel Blessings. In the same way, our most popular products were the Enochian Novena, the Solomonian Novena, and the Roman Catholic-Enochian Rosary, being the Enochian Rosary and the Enochian Novena the most popular products bought with discounts. The most expensive was communication with angelic spirits and Saints, which was offered for $700, which even with a discount, didn't catch the money of our buyers. However, the simplest and cheapest products were the Solomonian Novena, the Roman Catholic-Enochian Rosary, and the Enochian Novena, as they were offered at a precise, affordable price: The Enochian Rosary was at just 5 USD, it included a traditional Catholic Rosary/Chaplet but with its chants in Enochian (The Our Father, the Ave Maria, The Apostle's Creed, the Glory Be were in Enochian along with the exact pronunciations to be effective). The Solomonian Novena (which is a 100-page little book that includes the Solomonian summonings to the Archangels to form the spirit of a saint and petition those Holy Spirits of Saints), was at 25 USD, while the Enochian Novena (The easiest novena to speak directly with the Kabbalistic Angels and the Saints of the Catholic Church through a nine-day novena), was at 10 USD.

One day, we received the purchase of an Enochian Chaplet from a young Mexican man, whose name was Fernando Robles. The guy, who was originally from the State of Veracruz (Mexico) was witnessing temptation to abuse and rape a small prodigy girl in his home state whose mother was some kind of attractive lady who had come to Mexico to a GTA San Andreas-styled lowrider challenge.

The guy was invited by the little prodigy girl's mother (who was indeed a voluptuous, curvy, and thick woman) to a lowrider race competition in Los Santos, San Andreas (USA), letting him know that if he wins the car race competition, he would win a prize he would be never aware of. She suddenly kisses him on the cheek, and he then goes off.

However, he compromised with the Lord Jesus Christ to serve Him full-time at an Evangelical non-profit organization in Springfield, North Takoma (USA). The worst of it, he had been approved for an EB-4 Visa Program, without violating the Statement of Faith so full-time employees were abstaining from pornography. However, that was not a surprise; he was the only member of his family to be an Evangelical Christian. His family was, indeed, a racial mix of African American and Mexican-American families that were part of the Lowrider culture. They trained their members, from childhood to adulthood, to remain faithful to the Lowrider culture. If they violate the Lowrider tradition, they would fire that member of the family and go ahead besides killing them. However, as he was a loved member of his family, he then decided to remain faithful to both the Lowrider Culture and belonging to the Evangelical Protestant movement.

However, the temptation was coming to him as a little prodigy girl wins a Lowrider car challenge. Her name was Vivian, she was only a five-year-old girl with a prodigious mind: From birth, she was already a web developer, and also a mechanical engineer, whose skills prompted her to repair lowrider cars, hit the switches, lowriding, and make them jump, and when she was sitting on the cars when the cars jumped, her buttocks bounced. It was thanks to her conception, her mother. The mother was indeed an Only Fans star, she only offered her subscribers 5 dollars for them to enjoy her exclusive and explicit content. She had, indeed, a lot of fat in her butt, and she had a voluminous six-pack, so everything she ate, was absorbed by her buttocks. One fun fact is that the lady is a devout Catholic before entering the Only Fans/Adult industry, she was a full-time web developer working for a Catholic technological corporation in Bluffington (USA) but later decided to let her office as a Catholic lay web developer to become a porn star. Her OF shows her posing on Lowrider cars, and on several occasions, she appeared in several music videos from Molotov and Climax (a Veracruz, Mexico-based cumbia group) during the 2000s and 2010s. Later, in the early 2020s, during the COVID-19 pandemic lockdowns, she became a single mother, conceiving Vivian, a prodigious baby girl which was considered a technological prodigy and mechanical as referred to cars and something like that... That was the story of a double-moral woman.

He was then counseled by his schoolmates, which pleased his sexual recovery by giving and buying him pornography (the boys were indeed encouraged by his father). Every single day, they went to his home to provide him with some porn magazines, videos, and more related to the porn industry.

It had come to pass a long time since anything had any effect: He went on to camps and attended his evangelical church's youth ministry, but nothing happened in his "pure" life.

After a long time of self-cheating treatments, he found a brochure about Alt-Magick, and immediately contacted my email and wrote the following email:

"Hi,

My name is Fernando Robles, I live in Mexico and I am a twenty-three-year-old-young-man.

I recently found about you on a paper brochure down the street in which you offered, at a price point, magickal services related to Alt-Magick, Sainthood Magick (¿Santería?), as well as Enochian involvement in the Roman Catholic Church practices, that correct?

If yes, I live in Mexico, where the cult of Santa Muerte is very common. Unfortunately, as a good Christian, I think that there hasn't changed anything related to my self-changing, because every time I think to change, I fail.

These days, a woman came to my town along with her daughter. As I saw her, she was very devout to Santa Muerte, but one more time, I regretted praying to that saint since that's NOT my belief, and that's against my "beliefs". However, when I found out about Alt-Magick, I think I would have had a mystical encounter by just paying a sorcerer in the sense of delivering me from fornication. Have tried several treatments, and last in self-cheating.

I saw you offer some magick services that do not contradict religion and occultism, and it is far away from Satanism and esotericism. Oh, I also found that you sell a "Roman Catholic-Enochian Rosary" that is indeed blessed by you by just requesting it.

So, in order NOT to pay off the Altar to Santa Muerte, I think you are the adequate person you can invoke the spirit of a specific saint that, according to you, is formed by an Angel and an Archangel, so, I would love to specifically talk to Jesus Christ since I think he is the only mediator on the son of men (1 Timothy 2:5-6).

I have at least $2000 to pay you, do you have any discount?

Stay tuned for your answer.

Honestly,

Fernando Robles Veracruz, México"

While my children and I were helping out a client who needed financial assistance through a magickal ritual, I receive an email from Fernando on my email.

After having read Fernando's email, I felt so exhausted that I wanted to contact the Sacred Heart of Jesus (since he asked me to summon Jesus Christ by citing 1 Timothy 2:5-6). But, after succeeding in the act of summoning, I decided then to speak to him and make a virtual session with him to evoke directly the Sacred Heart of Christ.
